DETAILED ACTION

This non-final Office Action is mailed in response to applicants amendment filed 12/20/2005.

Claims 5-7 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 12/20/2005.

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1 and 4 in the reply filed on 12/20/2005 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Edminston (D281,221) in view of Knable (US 6,601,711). As described in the office action mailed 1/13/2005 Edminston discloses the structure of the retainer. Edminston does not show any fastening means associated with the retainer. Knable shows a ball retainer (10) having a fastening means in the form of a belt (40) with a tensioning buckle (col. 2 lines 39-47). Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to mount the retainer of Edminston using the

With respect to claim 4, Knable also teaches the ball retainer mounted to a pole (col. 2 lines 26-29). Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to mount the retainer of Edminston to a pole. The motivation would be to provide easy access to the retainer.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. The previously indicated allowability of claims 3 and 5-7 is withdrawn in view of new grounds of rejection.
